SUB: PRINCIPAL'S LETTER TO BOYS OF CLASS XI, 2011

Dear Boys of Class XI,

1. Trust my mail finds you and your family in good cheer and enjoying your winter vacations.
2. The New Year, around the corner, will herald your last year at School. Before you can say 'Jack Robins' your stay at Mayo will all be over. Therefore, you now need to do a little introspection and decided as how you wish to run the last mile at School. I'm sanguine that you will agree with me that your last year should be a year where you make up for lost opportunities, and leave with happy memories of your stay here. A year which your parents will think was undoubtedly the best any School can give.
3. I do believe that your last year in School is a defining moment in your life. You all would have discerned the vast change in majority of the present class XII boys for the good. They are now more confident and focussed; their attitude towards their peer and juniors is very supportive; they dress better; talk better and interact in a much more friendlier manner with the staff. I'm sure you are proud to have such seniors. You now need to take the cue from them and achieve far better standards and leave a mark at School. This opportunity shall not pass your way again.
4. The academic results of class XI and XII are very important while seeking admission into colleges and universities. Therefore, you need to work hard for the last lap of your journey. We all feel that your Batch has great potential but have not applied yourselves as much you need to. Therefore, we need to now pay greater attention to studies. I would not leave any stone unturned to give you a good academic environment. Your competition is not with your peer but with your own self. Do have a look at your present grades and see how you can improve upon them. It is not difficult at all. Just a little extra hour at the study table and your understanding of the academic calendar (that time is running out) should be enough.
5. We wish you to have a great year ahead, a year full of achievements in academic, co-curricular activities and sports; a year you can look back with pride; a year where you transform from a boy into a gentleman.
6. I and my Staff will always be there to walk the extra mile for you. Lets join hands to achieve excellence. Looking forward to your return.

Happy New Year to you and the family.

Best wishes,

Maj Gen Lalotra (Retd)
